

Why did I use UML instead of ER diagram?

Answer: I felt that UML diagrams have a better object oriented approach. Before starting the assignment, I researched over the internet over the practices and uses of ER and UML diagrams in the software development industries. Many of the people commented how ER diagrams are becoming less relevant and UML diagrams are more utilized. I specially liked the approach of using classes in UML which was very helpful for me to construct this diagram.